

Call For Satellite Workshops

We invite researchers and scholar to submit proposals for half- or full-day workshops that will be held jointly with the International Conference on Computer and Applications ICCA'18, July 25 to July 26, 2018, in Beirut - Lebanon. Workshops will take place on Tuesday, July 24, 2018, at RAMADA – PLAZA HOTEL. We are looking for proposals on focused topics in all areas of computing and electronics. The purpose of workshops is to group together researchers working on the same topic to meet together and discuss the recent advancement in their field of interest. Workshop registration is mandatory and covers the publication of one paper, with lunch and coffee breaks. The workshop organizers can form their own TPC and coordinates with ICCA'18 chairs for the peer review of the submitted papers. Original accepted papers will be published in ICCA'18 proceedings. Interested people should submit their proposals to icca@ijcis.info. The proposal should include the following:

1. Workshop title, objective, and description.
2. Chairs with their BIOs and full contacts.
3. Estimated numbers of papers to be accepted (orals or posters).
4. Invited speakers (if any).

Organizers of workshops should design a Call-for-Papers with all related information.

For any questions, please contact us at icca@ijcis.info